

Listening and Talking

1. When I engage with others, I can respond in ways appropriate to my role, show that I value others' contributions and use these to build on thinking. LIT 2-02a
2. As I listen or watch, I can identify and discuss the purpose, main ideas and supporting detail contained within the text, and use this information for different purposes. LIT 2-04a
3. When listening and talking with others for different purposes, I can: share information, experiences and opinions, explain processes and ideas, identify issues raised and summarise main points or findings and clarify points by asking questions or by asking others to say more. LIT 2-09a

Reading

4. I regularly select and read, listen to or watch texts which I enjoy and find interesting, and can explain why I prefer certain texts and authors. LIT 1-11a
5. Using what I know about the features of different types of text, I can find, select and sort information from a variety of sources and use this for a specific purpose. LIT 2-14a

Writing

6. I consider the impact that layout and presentation will have and can combine lettering, graphics and other features to engage my reader. LIT 2-24a
7. I can use my notes and other types of writing to help me understand information and ideas, explore problems, generate and develop ideas or create new text. I recognise the need to acknowledge my sources and can do this appropriately. LIT 2-25a

1. I can extend and enhance my knowledge of digital technologies to collect, analyse ideas, relevant information and organise these in an appropriate way. TCH 2-01a
2. I can use digital technologies to search, access and retrieve information and are aware that not all of this information will be credible. TCH 2-02a
3. I can explore online communities demonstrating an understanding of responsible digital behaviour and I'm aware of how to keep myself safe and secure. TCH 2-03a
4. I can recognise basic properties and uses for a variety of materials and can discuss which ones are most suitable for a given task. TCH 2-10a

Art and Design

1. I can create and present work that shows developing skill in using the visual elements and concepts. EXA 2-03a
2. Inspired by a range of stimuli, I can express and communicate my ideas, thoughts and feelings through activities within art and design. EXA 2-05a

Music

3. I have listened to a range of music and can respond by discussing my thoughts and feelings. I can give and accept constructive comment on my own and others' work. EXA 2-19a

1. I have contributed to investigations into the role of microorganisms in producing and breaking down some materials. SCN 2-13a

1. As I explore the rights to which I and others are entitled, I am able to exercise these rights appropriately and accept the responsibilities that go with them. I show respect for the rights of others. HWB 2-09a
2. I am investigating different careers/occupations, ways of working, and learning and training paths. I am gaining experience that helps me recognise the relevance of my learning, skills and interests to my future life. HWB 2-20a

1. I can use primary and secondary sources selectively to research events in the past. SOC 2-01a
2. I can discuss why people and events from a particular time in the past were important, placing them within a historical sequence. SOC 2-06a
3. I can use evidence selectively to research current social, political or economic issues. SOC 2-15a

I can:

- work in a group of 3 or 4 to study an image of a face before creating a facial composite; (1)
- create a piece of art based on the iconic silhouette of Sherlock Holmes; (2)
- listen to classic TV detective theme tunes (for example: Quincy; Columbo; Magnum, PI; Poirot; Cagney and Lacey) and share my thoughts on the impression that each piece of music gives me. (3)

I can:

- discuss how adults, including the police force, defend our right to be protected from harm; (1)
- identify the skills required for a career as a police officer, detective, toxicologist, scientist or any other role related to forensic science; (2)
- explore recruitment websites to investigate the soft skills required for positions that I might consider as a career option; (2)
- explore further and higher education prospectuses to find out the entry requirements for careers that interest me. (2)

I can:

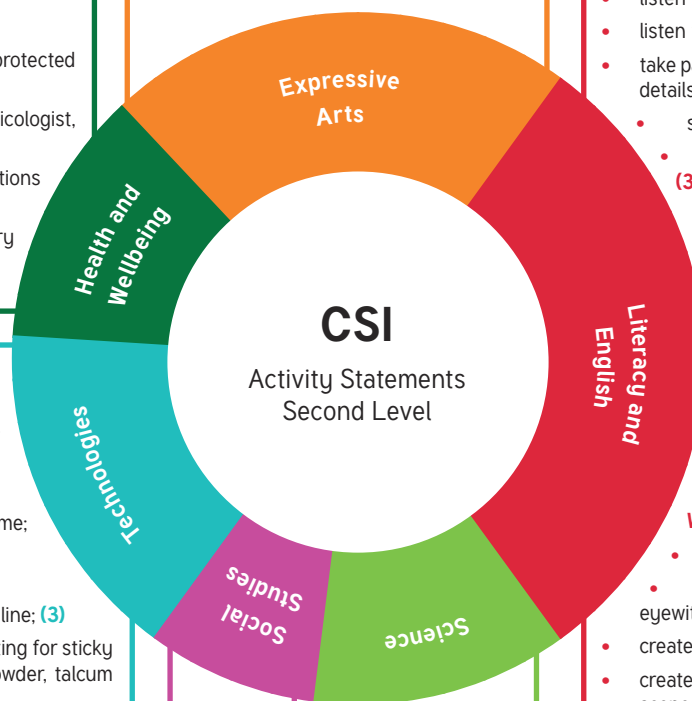

- research the roles and responsibilities of police officers, detectives, toxicologists, forensic scientists or any other career related to crime scene investigation; (1, 2)
- research and discuss the issue of cybercrime; (3)
- explore ways people can reduce the risk of becoming a victim of cybercrime; (3)
- work with a group to identify the key signs of a phishing email; (3)
- explain the steps that I would take if I experienced something negative online; (3)
- take part in an experiment to explore which material works best when dusting for sticky fingerprints on glass (children could experiment with salt, soil, cocoa powder, talcum powder and flour); (4)
- use microscopes and magnifying glasses to explore different types of soil, and link this to the role of forensic geology. (4)

I can:

- explore how Henry Faulds used Sir William James Herschel's invention to make identifying criminals easier; (1, 2) (Useful resource: Fantastic Fingerprints Activity Sheet)
- research and find out what the word 'graphology' means, and discover one fact about Jean-Hippolyte Michon, the man who first used the phrase; (1, 2)
- work with a small group to come up with a solution to the issue of overcrowding in prisons. (3)

I can:

- explore the process of contamination within the simple context of the spread of bacteria; (1)
- link the process of contamination with the spread of evidence at a crime scene. (1)

I can:

Listening and Talking

- take part in a group discussion about the role of jobs linked to CSI; (1)
- take part in a whole class discussion about issues linked to overcrowding in prisons; (1, 3)
- work with a group or the whole class to plan a 'whodunit?' style activity for another class to solve; (1, 3)
- listen for information and discuss what I have learned; (2)
- listen to an excerpt and answer questions to test my listening skills; (2)
- take part in a visual memory activity to assess how effective I would be at remembering details; (2)
- share something new that I have learned with a peer; (2)
- discuss the differences between crime themed TV shows and real-life careers. (3)

Reading

- read books and explore texts based on fictional detectives; (4)
- recommend a book to a friend and justify my recommendation; (4)
- use a dictionary to help support my understanding as I explore books and websites linked to our topic; (5)
- explore texts, including online sources of information about the history of crime; (5)
- use what I have read to help me contribute to group and whole class discussions. (5)

Writing

- create an information leaflet about a role within forensic science; (6)
- create a crime-based newspaper article that includes an interview with an eyewitness; (6, 7)
- create a character profile and biography for a new fictional detective; (6, 7)
- create a timeline of events relevant to the development of technology within crime scene investigation (fingerprinting, graphology, polygraphing); (6, 7)
- analyse and compare handwriting samples; (7)
- take notes as I read and listen for information; (7)
- use the notes that I have taken to help me contribute to group and class discussions. (7)